LOUISIANA.

NEW-ORLEANS, APRIL 3.

Gen. Mac Gregor.

By the brig Cordelia, which arrived here on Wednesday last, from Port-au-Prince, we have some further particulars concerning Mac Gregor's expedition. This adventurer had his rendezvous at Les Cayes, and not at Porten-Prince, as before reported.—He had many of his officers had visited the latter place in February, and were well received by Boyer. The force under Mac Gregor was generally stated at 6000 men, though no doubt this was an exaggeration. They are mostly all natives of the United Kingdoms of Great-Britain, with a few foreigners among the officers. It was said that most of the men had seen service; their uniforms were blue, with a blue and white cockade. The vessels they embarked in were 9 or 10 in number, said to be fine ships, some of them as large as frigates, the others as sloops of war; the whole well armed and completely equipped. It was generally thought at Port-au-Prince, that the British government were some how concerned in the enterprise, as it was apparently conducted on too grand a scale for any individual purse, and the Patriots are without funds. They left Les Cayes in the beginning of March, destination unknown, but suspected to be for Carthagena and New Granada.

OHIO.

LEXINGTON, APRIL 9

A gentleman direct from the land sales at Cahaba, states, that in consequence of a combination of the land speculators, the sales have been postponed. The company, consisting of about forty, deposited one thousand dollars each, and agreed not to bid over two dollars per acre for any land which might be offered. That two valuable townships were bid off at that price, when the Register ordered the sales to be postponed. These townships were then sold at auction by the company, and the net profit arising from the re-sale of land amounted to 1500 dollars to each individual concerned. We presume that the gentlemen speculators formed their plan on the commonly received principle, that the public is a goose and that while its enchanting plumage offered so many temptations to pluck a few feathers, no other danger was to be apprehended than that of being hissed at!

President's Visit.

The visit of the President, of the U. S. has filled this part of the country with joy and festivity. During his stay here the Fraternity of Free Masons presented to him an eloquent and affectionate Address, to which the President returned the following answer:—

To the Masonic Fraternity, &c.

In visiting this city, it is very gratifying to me to receive a friendly welcome from the society of Free Masons residing in it.

Believing, as we do, all the blessings, which a kind Providence has bestowed on us, from our republican institutions, we should forfeit all claims to the continuance of the divine favor, if we did not zealously cherish and steadily adhere to those institutions.

Having a common interest, and bound together, as the American people are, by all the ties which can cement their Union, I see with great satisfaction, the increasing harmony in the public opinion, proceeding from those great causes which you have noticed, and which it is so consistent with the benevolent principles of your society to cherish.

The example of the Father of his Country, and of the other illustrious citizens who were members of your society, cannot fail to promote this desirable tendency.

JAMES MONROE.

COLUMBIA.

WASHINGTON CITY APRIL 29

Capt. Biddle, of the Ontario sloop of War just arrived at Annapolis, from a two years' cruize round Cape Horn, and in the South sea, is at present in this city. It is hoped the public will be allowed to enjoy the benefits of his observations during his cruise; and that we shall have an account from him, or some other officer of the ship, of the many occurrences during the voyage, and while in South American ports, which are worthy of note.—Such an account would excite an interest something allied to that which was generally produced by the first authentic accounts of Com. Porter's gallant and adventurous cruize in the same seas.

Capt. J. D. Henley, commanding the frigate Congress, now lying at Annapolis, and ready for a voyage even more extensive than that from which the Ontario has returned, has also been on a visit to this city. This vessel, it is said, will visit the East India ports; and it is believed will be the first national ship of the United States which has ever visited those ports. In her passage down the Atlantic coast, she will land at Rio Janeiro Mr. Graham, our Minister to the Brazils. As soon as he is prepared to embark the vessel will sail.

April 30.

Major A. C. W. Fanning, who has commanded Fort St. Marks since its capture, has lately been relieved by a Spanish force of 300 under the promise of the President to that effect. The expedition sailed from Pensacola, under the command of Don Jose Callava.—Major Fanning, the greater part of the garrison, marched by land and had arrived at Fort Gadsden—the sick and baggage were hourly expected at the same place.

May 1.

The public sales of lands in the Alabama have been stopt, as it was found that the speculators had conspired together to keep the price at no higher rate than two dollars per acre, by agreeing, under heavy penalties, not to overbid each other beyond that price.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, APRIL 29

A melancholy accident took place on Saturday last.—A negro boy (Mr. W. Sanders's) who was in the habit of carrying a horse to grass upon the commons, lay down on that morning (it is suspected) to take a nap with a slip not tied around his wrist. The horse is supposed to have taken fright, and ran off dragging the boy with him. The rope became entangled around the boy's neck—and in the act of being hurried along by the affrightened animal, his neck was snapped, and his skull was dreadfully broken. It is unnecessary to add, that when the horse was caught, the poor boy was completely dead.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA APRIL 30.

The Ontario.

We have succeeded in ascertaining the following particulars, respecting the late very interesting cruise of this national ship. The commissioner of the Vice King of Peru, who went in the Ontario to Valparaiso, having ascertained that the State of Chili would not treat with him, returned in the Ontario to Lima.—From Lima, the Ontario sailed for the N. W coast of America, and in 49 days she anchored in 14 fathom, water off the river Columbia; of which each shore was taken possession in the name of the United States of America.

After watering at a Spanish settlement in California, the Ontario returned to Lima where the officers and crew were treated in the most hospitable manner.—From Lima the Ontario sailed for Valparaiso.—On her arrival, Lord Cochrane manifested a disposition to insist upon the Ontario paying his ship the compliment of a salute. To effect this, Lord Cochrane took measures to get his fleet (the Chilian fleet) consisting of 3 frigates and a sloop of war, to prevent the sailing of the Ontario.—He stationed the San Martin of 64 guns, off the harbor, and a smaller vessel of 20 guns along side the Ontario. Notwithstanding all these preparations, the Ontario took in her wood, water and provisions, and, when ready, sailed, passing the San Martin at a distance of three fourths of a mile. She and the small vessel got under weigh, immediately on perceiving the Ontario make sail. After about two hours, the Ontario had left the Chilian ships about four miles astern, when they gave up the pursuit.

NEW-YORK.

NEW-YORK, MAY 5.

Late from South-America.

The fast sailing ship Sachem, Hillard, arrived at this port yesterday from Buenos Ayres, whence she sailed on the 10th of March.—We have received a file of papers of a late date, and a long letter from a correspondent at that place. From W. G. D. Worthington, Esq. late consul at Buenos Ayres, who has arrived in this ship, we have been politely favored with an interesting detail of recent occurrences in South America, of which we have only time to notice a part in this day's paper.

Mr. Worthington left Chili on the 29th of January, and made the journey across the continent from Valparaiso to Buenos Ayres in 21 days, on horseback, distance computed at 420 leagues.

It was reported the United States frigate Macedonian, arrived at Valparaiso about the beginning of February.

The President's message had been received at Buenos Ayres, and some remarks made upon it in the papers.—They seem to attribute the non-recognition of their independence by the United States to the impression which had been made this side of the tropics, respecting their party dissentions.—They expected that their sovereignty would have been acknowledged in consequence of the favorable reports which they anticipated from the commissioners in the Congress; but they did not appear to bear the disappointment in an improper manner.

Chili was by the last accounts freed from the Royalists. Sanchez, who commanded there, after being beaten at Santa Fe, had retired amongst the American Indians. On the 14th Jan Lord Cochran sailed from Valparaiso with his squadron, consisting of the Maria Isabel, (the frigate taken from the Spaniards) the San Martin, the Lautaro and the Chacabuco—supposed with the intention of touching at Arica and Lima, to cut and to capture or burn the shipping at the latter place, as they had on board a large store of rockets and provisions for four months. It was thought this naval expedition would give life and ascendancy to the Patriots in Lima. Captain Wooster, of the Lautaro, the real hero of the late naval success in Talcahuana Bay had resigned. Lord Cochran was fond of him and wished him to remain. His place was filled by Capt Grime, of the British navy, so that the marine of Chili is now wholly commanded by Englishmen. The British frigate Andromache, which was said to be taking off from Lima about $5,000,000, perhaps bound to Rio Janeiro, it was suspected would be intercepted by Lord Cochran, under the pretence or doctrine that she was violating her neutral character.

BUENOS AYRES, March 2

The state of this place is truly deplorable—the trade is very much reduced in consequence of the communication with the interior being cut off by wandering hordes of Indians, well armed and mounted, who traverse the country, driving off the cattle, and committing excesses that shock humanity. All kinds of foreign goods are nominal, and the produce of the country extremely scarce and high. The credit of the government is very much reduced, its paper being at 60 per cent discount, and daily getting lower. All the regular troops have been withdrawn from this city to act against the Montoneros, or Indians, who infest the interior, but they cannot do any thing with them. Being well mounted, they always avoid a regular attack.—It is said that the desertions have been very great from the troops sent out from here. The military duty of the city is now performed by the civicos, or militia, composed of the native population, and the free blacks. A mutiny took place on the 3d ult. in one of these regiments of blacks. It appears they were ordered to assemble without arms when it was intended to propose to them to join the regular army which was acting against the Montoneros.—They had a suspicion that some attempt of this kind was to be made, and appeared with arms and ammunition. To prevent a surprise they had their centinels stationed at the corners of the neighboring streets. On being harrangued by their officers, requesting their consent to march, some few cried out that they were willing, but the majority declared they would not, 'for God or man,' and behaved in a very riotous and insulting manner. They finally dispersed of their own accord, firing their muskets off along the streets, cheering each other, and swearing to defend their equal rights with the whites. Measures were immediately taken by the government to check this mutinous spirit.—Strong guards patrolled the streets day and night, to apprehend the blacks of the regiment, and in a short time most of them were lodged in prison.

The U. S. sloop of war Ontario, has been to Lima, where she took on board, on freight for Rio Janeiro, about a million of dollars—she stopped at Valparaiso on the 27th Dec, but slipped her hawser and put to sea again three days after, apprehending that a search was to be attempted for the specie as Spanish property—it is said that Lord Cochran advised it.

Lord Cochrane's squadron put to sea suddenly on the 14th Jan from Valparaiso, in pursuit of two Spanish frigates that they had information had sailed from Lima for Panama—they were also to make a dash at the harbor of Lima. The Chilian and Buenos Ayrean army under San Martin, about 3500 strong, was to embark for the siege of Lima as soon as the fleet returned to transport them. Captain Wooster, who commanded the O Higgin's frigate, resigned his commission just previous to the sailing of the fleet. The reason assigned for it is this: Lord Cochrane sent on board the frigate an order for her to be ready for sea in four hours, to which Captain Wooster sent an answer that it was impossible. Cochrane immediately repeated his order, adding that the word impossible was not in his vocabulary.—Upon which Capt Wooster threw up his commission, and the fleet sailed without him.

The ship Beaver of New-York, which was restored at Lima in December last, was to come to Valparaiso for a freight.

The Curiaso still remains here; she is under Chilian colours, commanded by Captain Delano, in that service. The Horatio continues to wear the American flag, not having been transferred in consequence of the inability of the government to pay the amount that is due for her.

Considerable apprehension is entertained here of the coming of the Cadiz Armada. Should it come out, Monte Viedo will no doubt be given up by the Portuguese, and then this river can be effectually blockaded. There cannot be a doubt of the ultimate failure of this expedition. Although the people of this country are divided among themselves, and the interior in a state of commotion, yet they would join against any foreign enemy, and so the Spaniards are universally regarded.

March 4.—It is reported that a Messenger was dispatched the day before yesterday to Gen San Martin, with orders for him to march his army to this place—It is said that he is to be named Director; and it conforms to what Pueyredon recommends in his speech to the Congress, which I enclose you. Fear of the Cadiz Expedition is no doubt the principal cause of these movements. The Expedition to Lima will of course be suspended, at least, if San Martin comes this way.

May 4

Internal Improvement.

In the autumn of 1800, Mr. Governeur Morris, visited, for the first time, the western part of New-York.—On his return he wrote in the following style, after a sublime description of the lakes, &c.:—Hundreds of large ships will, in no distant period, bound on the billows of these inland seas. Shall I lead your astonishment up to the verge of incredulity? I will. Know then, that one tenth part of the expense borne by Britain, in the last campaign would enable ships to sail from London, through Hudson's River, into Lake Erie. As yet, we only crawl along the outer shell of our country. The interior excels the part we inhabit, in soil, in climate, in every thing. The proudest empire of Europe is but a bauble, compared to what America may be, must be."

MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON, MAY 1.

An inaccurate tale is in circulation, that Christophe, (King Henry) of Hayti, in consequence of a present made to him by a gentleman of Massachusetts, of a splendid Quarto Bible, had returned him a letter of thanks inclosing a draft of $6000. The gentleman referred to was a former resident for many years at Cape Francois, during which period, he had rendered Christophe occasional services, which he had always promised to requite.—This pledge he had in some degree redeemed some time ago, by a gift of value in the article of coffee, but the measure of his justice was not filled, until a few months past, when he enclosed him the sum above mentioned.

May 3

From Gibraltar.

Accounts from Gibraltar to the 27th March, state, that the Am frigate United States, Capt. Crane, and sloops of war Erie and Spark, had arrived at that place. The frigate was to sail in two or three days, for Norfolk, and the other vessels to return to the squadron, up the Streights.

May 4

Spanish Maine Accounts.

It is difficult to trace, to any probable result, the numerous and contradictory accounts, which are daily brought from this interesting quarter. At one moment we hear of the victorious march of the Revolutionists, and the next that they are overpowered by the Royalist Generals.—It is, however, true, that the former are gaining strength, in numbers; but for lack of concert and discipline, appear to be inadequate to maintain the cause they have undertaken. Our revolution was sustained by a moral as well as a physical power; and until the native inhabitants of South America, shall feel as we felt, and act, in concert, as we did, with another Washington for a leader, they must remain as they are

Company of Counterfeiters.

The Corporation of New-York have intercepted and published a letter, which shews that a most extensive association exists for counterfeiting the Bills of different Banks in the United States and those in Canada. They say the writer is known to them, but they think he has exaggerated in his account of the extent and maturity of their system.—The writer proposes to have one copper-plate press for their purpose kept at work in Boston, under the direction of L. S. B.—one at New-York—and one in Cincinnati. He says they have three excellent engravers employed, viz J. W. L. R.—and N. P.—that the two first consent to receive their pay in the bills they may make, but the last is such an "infernal coward" that he insists on good money. The writer then gives a long list of the plates he has got under way—it includes the United States, Providence, Boston, Massachusetts and Salem Bank.

Seduction.

In the District Court for the city and county of Philadelphia, a verdict of $2000 for the plaintiff, was given in the case of Mary Shaw vs Nicholas Johnson. The plaintiff, a young and artless girl, had been seduced by the defendant, a gay fellow, under a solemn promise of marriage.

Governor of Pensacola.

The Governor of Pensacola has seized and committed to prison, the parricide Ratcliff, though a citizen of the U. S. His Excellency declared, that although he had no authority to arrest him, yet from the atrocity of the crime he had committed, he was disposed to have him punished, and for that purpose would detain him in prison until arrangements could be made for delivering him over to the civil authority of the Alabama Territory, in which the crime had been committed.

On Wednesday last the General Assembly of this State, convened in this town agreeably to law, for the purpose of organizing the government for the year ensuing.

The House of Representatives immediately proceeded to the choice of a Speaker and Clerk;—when James D'Wolf, Esq. was chosen Speaker, and Dexter Randall, Esq. Clerk.

A Committee was then appointed to count the votes for General Officers, who at 4 o'clock reported the following gentlemen to be elected, who were thereupon proclaimed, and engaged accordingly:—

Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court.

The several Banks made their returns yesterday to the General Assembly agreeably to law; but owing to the late hour at which they were returned, we are unable to prepare an abstract for this day's paper.

The Legislature adjourned yesterday forenoon, to meet again in this town on the third Monday of June next.

Secretary of State.

The Providence Patriot of Saturday last, says,—"It is a singular fact, that for the last one hundred and twenty seven years, the office of Secretary of this State has been held by six persons only. Weston Clarke was chosen May, 1693, and held the office until May, 1714, when Richard Ward was chosen. He held it till May, 17[illegible] when James Martin was chosen. He continued in office until his death, which [illegible] February, 1746, Thomas Ward was chosen. He held it till his death, which [illegible] December, 1760, Henry Ward was chosen. He also held it till his death, which [illegible] when December, 1797, Samuel E[illegible] was chosen, who has faithfully discharged all its important duties to the present time."

Town-Meeting.

At a Town-Meeting held on Saturday last, the vote relative to the application to the Legislature for the enacting a law, districting the town for the choice of Members of the Town-Council, was repealed, and the further consideration of the law was postponed to the annual Town-Meeting on the first Monday in June next.

Junius.

The author of the celebrated letters of Junius, is now said to be the late Dr. Wilmot, of Oxford. A letter from H. Campbell, Esq. F. A. S. dated London, the 9th of March, 1819, mentions, that he has compared the MSS of Junius with the writing of Dr. Wilmot, and that there is not and cannot be a shadow of doubt, that the same hand traced the characters. Mr Campbell gives other evidence that the Doctor is the author of these letters.—N. Y. Gaz.

They are engaged to remain with the exiled emperor during his residence on the Island.

SONNET TO FRIENDSHIP.

HOW sweet to find a sympathizing heart,
One, who in every sorrow takes a part,
Who in the day of deep distress,
With friendly hand doth love to bless.
In darkest storms whose kindness cheers,
Whose form the dreariest place endears,
Who'd leave the sunshine of the gay,
And with the Mourner rather stray.
Whose eyes emit soft friendship's light,
That quickly put dull care to flight,
Whose soul is pure from treach'rous wile,
Whose sense can every thought beguile.
Oh! that I this form could tell,
Which I shall ever love so well.

The Little Flower.

I KNOW not by what name, the flow'r
To call, whose tiny bloom,
Almost unseen, adorns my bow'r,
And wafts unfelt perfume.

Thus is there, ev'n when Mis'ry reigns,
Some charm minute that cheers,
Though small the pleasure, great our pains,
Existence it endears.

Hope gilds our path, where'er we tread,
And scatters sunshine bright,
Yet if her rays be feebly shed,
We hail them with delight.

From the Salem Gazette.

Several weighty reasons why I in particular ought to be excused from taking the Newspapers.

There's no occasion for my taking the papers; I am in neighbour ——'s store every day, and see it as soon as it comes.

There's no use in my taking the papers, for we can't have it a minute after it comes into the store, one or another catches it up so quick.

I can have no need to take the papers, I can always read them at the barber's.

I need not take papers; for I am so much among people, that I can hear all the news at the post-office, and see the arrivals in Boston papers, and that's all I want to know.

It is no matter about our taking the papers (a man once told the printer;) father generally goes to meeting every Sunday, and comes back by Mr. M——'s, and it is no more than three and half miles out of the way through the woods, and borrows his paper every week.

I don't want the paper; there's a parcel left at the school-house every week, and the boys bring one home for us to read.

We don't want the paper; there's one or two left at the house for back neighbours, that we read.

I don't want the paper but a few minutes, just to run over the Foreign News, to see what Congress or the Legislature are about, or to look at the Advertisements, and one will lend one long enough for that, without taking it myself.

And I, who live so near the printing-office, can go there and see the papers from all parts of the Union. It is, therefore unnecessary for me to subscribe for any paper
